Harmony Club Has the Acquirement of Joy by Every One All Doped Out -Must Change Articles of Incorpora tion to Suit an Exacting Justice.

Application was made to Supreme Court Justice Amend yesterday for the incorporation of the Harmony Club, of which Edward H. Fallows, the lawyer of 30 Church street, is president and Helen M. Fogler secretary. The Court declined to approve the certificate of incorporation in the form in which it was presented because it proposed among other things "to organize and control hospitals, clinics saries, health homes, sanitoria and kindred hygienic institutions."

The petition was returned to the club with this indorsement:

"The paragraph relating to hospitals and kindred institutions would seem to make it necessary that the State Board of Charities should first give its indorse-

Miss Fogler, the secretary, said yesterday afternoon that many of the things the club hopes to do are so far in the future that the club doesn't really pare for permission to do them at present, and organizing hospitals is one of them. A new application will probably be made which will eliminate that paragraph of he articles of incorporation.

The other stated purposes of the club

To harmonize people with themselves, their surroundings and each other. To prove the efficient value of a smile and song in everyday life.

To establish the perfect unity of body, aind, heart and spirit.

And not only all those beautiful things To investigate, formulate and demonstrate the scientific laws of happiness.

To enunciate the principles of wholeome, triumphant, sincere living.

To present the discoveries of modern ogy in simple, attractive guise.

To put those who want vital knowledge in touch with those who have it. To maintain a brotherhood of individuals where sympathy is the only bond.

To impart the secrets of self-help as the highest form of altruism. subject that makes for clear understand-

To write, collate, print, publish and sell books, magazines, leaflets, pamphlets, cards, calendars, mail courses of instrucion and such other matter as may be subject to postal transmissions.

To manufacture foods, garments, tools of necessity or luxury may be desired by nembers of the club.
To conduct schools, reading rooms, itineraries of lecture and travel, meeting places and social centres throughout the United States and England To grant certificates and diplomas entitling the holder to use the name and canction of the club in such manner and to such end as the club may decree. To operate assemblies, camps, colonies, boters, resorts and educational tours. To direct and own restaurants, bakeries shops, stores and whatever commercial enterprises aid the work of the club.

To serve as manufacturers' agent or Unancial representative in transactions undertaken for the benefit of members. To erect buildings and buy, hold or sell To engage in any business, profession art, science or philanthropy whose purport conforms to the statement of intent berein declared.

The incorporators other than Mr Fallows and Miss Fogler are Charles E. Selover, Wyntjie L. Smith and Edward Earle Purinton. Miss Smith is just out of a boarding school and is the daughter of Dr. Gerrit Smith, the organie: and composer. Mr. Purinton, w. o is the editor of the club's monthly magazine.

e, has written some poetry. The club occupies a room on the fourteenth floor of 30 Church street, not far from Mr. Fallows's office, where several young women are employed sending out litera-ture that describes the scope and pur-ture that describes the scope and purposes of the club.

Miss Fogler, who does the talking in the absence of Mr. Fallows, said yesterday that she preferred to have the club work along without publicity until it grew to be real big, but so long as it had all come out through the filing of incorporation papers she wanted everybody to have a thorough understanding of what the Harmony Club hopes to do. Furthermore she hopes that no one will take the club's objects lightly nor speak in a tone of sarcasm or humor concernin a tone of sarcasm or humor concerning it, such as has been done in the case

ing it, such as has been done in the case of other worthy organizations.

A circular bearing Mr. Fallows's signature as president of the club and having on its cover the words "How to Be Happy" is being sent out through the United States and England to spread the tidings about the club. Under the heading "A Question for Everybody" the circular says:

What do we want most in life? To be happy. Just that and nothing more. wanting to be happy is the most beautiful. the most pathetic desire of the human heart Beautiful, because happiness is our birthright and we should hunger for it most; pathetic, because few of us know how to make the search. Everything we struggle for, from clothing, food and shelter to pictures, books and travel, but represents of this eternal happiness-hunger. So that the question how to be happy in the one great problem of human destiny. The answer is the Harmony Club, a com com sense league of thoughtful men, women and children everywhere, who have set out to be happy, and make others happy, in a word to keep in tune with themselves and their surroundings.

Harmony Club was organized in March, 1909, to spread broadcast this knowledge of how to be happy. A great wave of cheer philosophy is sweeping around the filling the very air with its notes of

The Harmony Club has undertaken the systematic study on a large scale of the logical, scientific and practical method to produce happiness for society and the individual. Each member of the Harmony Club receives a copy of the club manual, How to Be Happy," which crystallizes the of common people, lives being the greatest Yearly membership fee, 25 cents.

President Fallows also announces that some of the world's greatest teachers. philosophers, ministers, doctors and business men are cooperating to make the club invaluable. An open letter from Bishop Fallows of Chicago, the president s of Chicago, the president's is also sent out to prospective members. It says in part:

The attention of our people has been called by leading physicians and neurologists of the age to the alarming increase of nervous and mental ailments among us. caused by overwork, by our strenuous life, by worry, melancholia, fear of failure and

The Harmony Club resolve follows:

To create happiness in myself and others I will keep a strong body for the work I have to do, a loving heart for those about me, a clear mind for all truth, whose recognition brings freedom: a poised, uncon-querable soul for the ideal whose champien I declare myself; and I will possess a faith mighty enough to rout anxiety, ride over difficulty, challenge hardship, smile through grief, deny failure, see only tory, looking only to the end; by which hopeful assurance now attuned I am at eace with myself, the world and the Infinite In addition to the annual membership-fee of 25 cents the seekers for happiness may send another quarter for a club button bearing a large "C" in the centre with white beams radiating in all direc-tions and "Harmony Club" at the top and "Be Happy" at the bottom. Miss Fogler said that since the club has been organized nearly 2,000 candidates for happiness have enrolled, among whom are Supreme Court Justices, pro-fessional men of all kinds and even a cowboy. The club hopes soon to open a rest room in the business district for its members, Miss Fogler said.

TAFT GIVES A DAY TO THE SEA. Lays Aside His Brassy for a Look at the Yacht Race.

BEVERLY, Sept. 3 .- Those advocates of the Atlantic Ocean who have become decidedly peevish because the President has devoted more than they thought was the required amount of time to terra firma have been hilariously delighted all day to-day because Mr. Taft has abjured his accustomed golf match to enjoy instead the sensation of riding the bounding billows at the sonder class races.

Their opponents, the followers of the niblicks and brassy and things, have been saying that the President wouldn't have given over a whole day to such mild sport as standing on the bridge of a converted despatch boat, with nothing to divert him but the sails of half a dozen bobbing yachts, if it hadn't been for a touch of sciatica.

Yesterday the Presidential follow through was stopped in midflight by an unmistakable twinge in the vicinity of the Presidential shoulder blades, and for that reason the Presidential caddie was out of a job to-day.

The yachtsmen have been retaliating by saying that perhaps Mr. Taft had for-gotten the time when his fingers were scraped by the sudden and unexpected scraped by the sudden and unexpected run of a sail rope between his palms. But the landlubbers still maintain that yachting is the President's one worst bet and that as soon as sciatica has faded off the scenery there will be nothing on the President's executive borizon but stimies, schlaffs, mashies, bunkers, putters, divots, cleeks, nineteenth holes and things like that. But for to-day at least Father Neptune was certainly one up on Col.

Neptune was certainly one of Bogey.
Shortly after 10 o'clock this morning the Sylph, with the eagle crested flag of the President broken from its main truck, jogged out of Beverly harbor with the President, Mrs. Taft, Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin, Mrs. Taft's sister, and Mr. Laughlin and Capt. Archibald Butt aboard. Lieut. Roger Williams and the crew of the Sylph were the only ones besides the club they desire to pursue any or all the Sylph were the only ones besides these persons who noticed the actions of the President, and so whatever demonstrate the sylph were the only ones besides these persons who noticed the actions of the President, and so whatever demonstrate the sylph were the only ones besides these persons who noticed the actions of the President, and so whatever demonstrate the sylph were the only ones besides these persons who noticed the actions of the President, and so whatever demonstrate the sylph were the only ones besides the sylph were the sylph were the only ones besides the sylph were the only ones besides the sylph were the only ones besides the sylph were the sylph were the only ones besides the sylph were the only ones besides the sylph were strations of enthusiasm were performed by Mr. Taft as the Joyette sped across the line must be recounted by those yachting experts who had their binoculars

Suffice it to say that the President was in a most amiable mood when he returned to Beverly and started talking sanitation with Prof. Irving Fisher, who teaches the boys at New Haven about political economy. Prof. Fisher is also a member of the committee of 100—not the one which is doing things in Manhattan—whose duty it is to report to the American Medical Congress on the subject of uniform laws of public health and sanitation. The dealings of the federation authorities with yellow fever and cholera in Cuba and Panama, the trained upon him. and cholera in Cuba and Panama, the activity of the Marine Hospital in relation to the bubonic plague on the Pacific Coast, and the system of cooperation designed by Surgeon-General Wyman for better work by the Government and State authorities came in for discussion during the interview. SCHOOL SITTINGS PROBLEM

BUREAU OF RESEARCH MAKES ANSWER TO MAXWELL.

Proper Use Made of Vacant Sittings. It Says-Many Suggestions-Wants the Effects of Part Time Studied-A Real School Census Also Needed

The Bureau of Municipal Research has fired another shot at the Board of Education for its "responsibility for the shortage in public school sittings." The bureau says that there are between 160,000 and 170,000 sittings above the average register of pupils. Chicago, it is pointed out, is the only city in the United States whose children could not have been put in the elementary school sittings here after subtracting the average register for the

"Such vacant sittings," says the bureau's statement, "exceed Philadelphia's average register or would accommodate all of the pupils of St. Louis, Milwaukee, Portland and Buffalo. And still the possibility of New York's having from 60,000 to 100,000 part time children this next

If the Board of Education will stop shifting the ground every time it explains the shortage in sittings nobody will expect it to stop the shifting of the city's population.

As a matter of fact, however, the move-ments of population could be materially influenced by statements of fact from school officials as to where children can be given seats. Thousands of children are moved away from vacanoies toward part time beparents are not told what the Board of Education should be able and eager to

The bureau's statement contradicts Supt. Maxwell's statements that the possibilities of consolidating classes and of leasing buildings have been exhausted. It says:

We know that it is not necessary to have 10,000 part time children in forty-four schools which report 5,000 sittings more than the total register, including the 5,000 on part time. We know that 110 of the 472 vacant sittings in No. 188, Manhattan. could be given to relieve 219 boys reported on part time; that in No. 78, with 310 sittings part time; that in No. 51, Brooklyn, 77 of the 258 sittings to spare could be given to re lieve 153 part time children.

It is reasonable to ask of the Board of Education that it stop saying that Manhattan's vacant sittings are limited to the iniddle West Side when seventy-eight schools on the East Side show vacant sittings.

The bureau suggests these steps to the Board of Education: 1. Places where in all likelihood there will be either overcrowding or surplus of sittings should be published next Sunday

2. Duplicate registration can be and should be taken into account in registering pupils and in finding seats for pupils who apply for admission. 3. If part time is the evil which it is alleged to be, preference in seating can be and should be given to children of compulsory school age.

4. The large difference between registration and attendance can be and should be taken into account when children are placed

5. When shortage and surplus of sittings are stated facts should be given by grades and ages and not by unclassified totals, as 6. The total number of sittings available be and should be reported correctly and not 20,000 short, as has been the case 7. Sittings in elementary schools having part time need not and should not be used for high school children. If there are again In regard to the reports that Curi

12,000 vacant sittings in high schools they can and should be used by elementary 8. Vacant sittings "upstairs" can be and should be used by children "downstairs who want full time. 9. Vacant sittings in one elementary chool can be and should be used by elementary children in a nearby school who full time. 10. Older children can safely and should be induced, enabled and compelled to travel practicable distances, if by so doing they will relieve part time

11. The merits and demerits of part time can be and should be studied scientifically and not left to the haphazard and inadequate investigations and opinions have heretofore been made public. Since 1903 even the part time enrolment averaged about 60,000. It is possible learn whether children who started in school six, five and four years ago on part time are to-day among the retarded and grades.

12. School authorities should take the initiative and the aggressive in securing a proper school census this fall, in using, not burying, that census, and in obtaining would result from the continuous registration which has been urged for several years by the former Commissioner of Education Felix M. Warburg.

COP SELLING LINCOLN CENTS? Boys Say They Gave Him #2.50 and

Didn't Get the Goods. John C. McGovern, a patrolman attached to the Oak street station, was on trial yesterday before Third Deputy Commissioner Stover charged with offering to sell Lincoln pennies to a citizen and refusing to deliver the pennies on payment. The complainants were two boys. George Mendels and Max Weitz. They testified that on August 7 they saw McGovern at Pine and Nassau streets and that he told them that he would and that he told them that he would get them 200 Lincoln pennies if they would give $2.50 to a citizen whom he pointed out. The boys said that they gave the money to the citizen and when they asked the policeman for the pennies he told them they must be mistaken, as he knew pathing about such a transaction nothing about such a transaction.

McGovern said that he was on special duty near the Sub-Treasurry on Saturday, August 7, during the rush for pennies, but asserted most positively that he had never seen either of the boys. Decision was reserved.

INDIGNANT AT PRESIDENT. Refuses to Receive Committee to Present

aventr of Hudson-Fulton Celebration.

NEWBURGH, Sept. 3.—President William H. Taft has offended the dignitaries who have the Hudson-Fulton celebration in charge. Two very fine engraved silver invitation cards have been secured at considerable expense for President Taft and Gov. Hughes. The Governor very readily responded to Mayor Benjamin McClung and Lawyer William R. Cassidy, chairman of the invitation committee, for a meeting to present the invitation card in such form

as such occasions require, and it was done

this afternoon at Kingston, where the Governor is viciting his father. When Mayor McClung called up the President at Beverly, Mass., on the long distance telephone to make an appointment for himself and Mr. Cassidy to personally present the expensive card to Mr. Taft, the President's secretary answered. He was told what the executive committee He was told what the executive committee had done in procuring for the President an appropriate souvenir of a memorable event. The secretary pleaded ignorance of the celebration and wanted more information. Mayor McClung gave it to him in detail and told him that the committee understood that official etiquette required a personal presentation.

to 100,000 part time children this next year is imminent enough to be seized as a leading, if not the chief, campaign issue."

The statement goes on:

In face of this situation the Board of Education admits its helplessness by declaring that it has done all that could be done. Fortunately the facts presented by the educational authorities justify a more optimistic conclusion. Taking this morning's statement as an illustration it is clear not only that the Board of Education is acting without information but that it has been acting upon misinformation.

If the Board of Education will stop shift-that the silver invitation might be sent on by mail or express.

There is great indignation over the curt response and the refusal to receive the committee, and it is aggravated by the fact that President Taft has declined to be present at a great celebration in his own country that will have most every other country in the world represented, either by war vessel or no official of high rank. What some of the committee has said would not look well in print.

"He might at least," said one, "let up on golf long enough to receive the committee and accept the beautiful silver souvenir which has been designed by an artist and procured at considerable expense. It will remain here, however, and be publicly exhibited to emphasize the feeling over the matter."

CURTISS AND WRIGHT TO FLY Chairman Beck Says They Will During Hudson-Fulton Week.

James M. Beck, chairman of the aeronautic committee of the Hudson-Fulton commission, expressed surprise yesterday that a cablegram had been sent from Paris to the effect that Glenn H. Curtiss had not signed a contract to give exhibition flights during the celebration. "It appears," said Beck, "that these despatches were sent on the authority of Cortlandt Field Bishop of the Aero Club of America. There must be some mistake. Either the foreign correspondents have misunderstood Bishop or they have been misinformed.

"The commission has a contract with Curtiss, dated August 4. Moreover, Curtiss has already received a first payment on account of his contract, and it hardly seems probable that he is responsible for the misinformation that is being printed.

or the misinformation that is being printed.

"The Hudson-Fulton commission has publicly announced the engagement of both Wilbur Wright and Curtiss, and any violation of the contract with Curtiss would put the commission in a false position."

Beck yesterday sent the following cablegram to Bishop: Cable despatches this morning quote you denying Hudson-Curtiss contract. Commission has this contract, signed August 4. Your reported statement puts commission If any one is influencing Curtiss to break faith with people of New York, kindly use your influence to contrary.

A. M. Herring, the partner of Curtiss, had this to say: "I know nothing of the matter beyond the fact that the Hudson-Fulton Commission made Curtiss an offer. In regard to the reports that Curtiss had made engagements for a number of flights in this country, Herring stated any such contracts had been made direct with Curtiss. He thought, however, that Curtiss would probably not accept such offers before returning home. It is understood that some friction exists over the management of the flights between the Aero Club of America and the aeronautics committee of the Hudson-Fulton Commission.

SHOT SISTER FOR BURGLAR. The Bullet Hit Her in the Neck Close to the Jugular Vein.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Sept. 3.-Miss Edna Slaughter was accidentally shot and seriously wounded by her brother. Eugene Slaughter, at their home near Crystal Run at 2 o'clock this morning. Miss Slaughter is in a pre-carious condition. Mr. Slaughter was aroused by a noise and he believed that aroused by a noise and he believed that there were burglars trying to enter the house. He aroused his sister Edna and both kept watch for a time. Not hearing anything more both retired to their rooms. Miss Slaughter was not satisfied, however, and made her way down stairs.

A moment later Mr. Slaughter heard a noise and taking his revolver crept down stairs. Seeing a figure in the darkness he fired at it. The shot took effect in Miss Slaughter's neck and she fell to the floor. Striking a match to look at the supposed burglar Mr. Slaughter found that his sister lay unconscious before him. He made efforts to stop the flow of blood and called a number of physicians by telephone. The bullet passed close to the jugular vein, severing several smaller veins, and the young woman nearly died Mercer Buys Brokaw Country Place. Commodore George Mercer, Jr., of the American Yacht Club has purchased from Clifford V. Brokaw his country place at the Ramble and in other parts of the big pleasure ground.

The disease invaded the bird house of the menagerie and attacked the canaries, but did not affect the other song birds there. Out of about seventy canaries in one apartment fifty died.

The park employees say it is the first time a fatal bird epidemic has entered the park. The disease is due to a germ that enters the head or throat of the little creatures because of the gaping of the sick birds.

BIG MISSIONARY MOVEMENT.

Plan to Raise Millions and Convert All the Heathen in Twenty Years. with headquarters in this city, announces that it has secured ten business men who will leave their regular work and give the greater part of next year to the personal conduct of meetings in behalf of foreign missions. The plan is comprehensive and President Taft has so adjusted the itinerary of his coming Western trip as to be in Washington on November 11 to speak at one of the meetings. The undertaking is to hold seventy meetings in seventy cities to consider foreign missions and the support by American Protestantism of them. The idea is aliens, but agrees with him that his force that heathen conversion has been too should be greatly increased, especially should be greatly increased, especially slow. The scheme is now to raise millions, in the direction of inspectors, with a secret hire a great force of missionaries and prosecute the task on a big scale, so as to complete it within fifteen to twenty years and have all the nations Christian.

The campaign will open in a month, to make the administration of the immigrants until work May. There are to be continued in the report chiefly for legislation to make the administration of the immigrants until the continued of the immigrants and to create the continued of the immigrants and to create the continued of the immigrants and the creater that the continued of the continued of the continued of the continued of the creater that the direction of inspectors, with a secret service in the direction of inspectors, with a secret service in the direction of inspectors, with a secret service in the direction of inspectors. The campaign will open in a month, to continue until next May. There are to be two series of meetings going on at the same time. The ten business men to have personal charge are to be increased to twenty, and a tour of cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific in double flank will be made. The trips will end at Indianapolis and St. Paul respectively, and then there will be in May next a mass meeting in Chicago that is planned to be quite the biggest missionary demonstration the administration of the immigration law more stringent and to create new bureaus that may be necessary for the purpose of keeping watch against the administration of the immigration law more stringent and to create new bureaus that may be necessary for the purpose of keeping watch against the administration of the immigration law more stringent and to create new bureaus that may be necessary for the purpose of keeping watch against the admission of aliens who may be brought here as strike breakers, if any such come here.

biggest missionary demonstration the country has ever had. The New York meeting is from January 9 to 16.

The reason for this new movement is the awakening in China and Japan, which it is asserted have turned completely in their attitude toward Christianity.

The movement confine itself to foreign The movement confines itself to foreign missions because the Protestant churches of America cannot agree concerning work to be done at home.

When the man came around to turn off the gas Mrs. Curtiss's lawyer paid the bill. This was stated to Justice Giegerich by Abram J. Rose of Kellogg & Rose, counsel for Mrs. Curtiss, in opposing the counsel for Mrs. Curtiss, in opposing the motion for stay of proceedings pending the appeal of John C. Shaw and Elmore S. Banks, the conservators of Mrs. Curtiss's estate, who were appointed by the Connecticut courts in 1907. The conservators were removed by Justice Brady last month, and as they have appealed from his order they ask to keep possession of Mrs. Curtiss's property in this State until the appeal has been decided. Mrs. Curtiss wants to get her property at once.
